

REQUIREMENTS

1. The program must keep a record of employees, their hours of work, leave, and the amount of income they generate.
2. It must have an intuitive interface so that any of the employees and administrators can enter the necessary information without any problem.
3. The information must be stored so that it can be reviewed even after a while.
4. There must be a separation of permissions. Employees will be able to enter the necessary information and in some cases make a change. Administrators will be able to freely enter the information of each employee and must be able to see a record of the changes that an employee made to it.
5. Have a login interface so that each user can enter their information and the system can organize the data with the corresponding employee.
6. Possess the ability to choose the payment method to be used.
7. Several employees must be able to use the program without problem and that the information is updated correctly.
8. The program must be able to register the products that are sold, products that are acquired and keep track of the amount that is available.